PHILIPS CUP 1979 – QUARTER FINAL

Well, here we are again – the quarter final round of the Philips Cup and the Canberra City flag flies high, following the excellent victory recorded last Wednesday against Essendon Croatia. Congratulations to Vic and the boys. With the game entering its final moments in the first half, Theo Moulis, coolheaded, calm and professional, quietly said: 'We'll get a goal from this corner'. And thanks to the grand finishing work of Roy Stark, that's precisely what we did. Theo's prescience is obviously an untapped source of knowledge to Canberra City and arrangements are being made for him to be linked to the scoreboard so that his 'flashes' may be conveyed to all and sundry.

The win last Wednesday was a good one. Essendon's reputation is well earned. In the first half, as is often the case, our team set about establishing the pattern of Essendon's play. What that first half may have lacked for the fans was more than made up for by the second half performance. Mention must be made of the fine return by Harry Williams to top soccer in Australia. Many of us have followed his fortunes in the Roos side and noted his crisp and accurate passes. Above all his fine sense of positional play – the mark of the true professional – was in evidence. Last Wednesday, when he cleared that scorching Essendon shot from the goalline his ability was all too ably demonstrated. Welcome back, Harry. Canberra City is proud that you are among our ranks.

And so to our quarter final clash against Footscray. We all have memories of the last clash between the two teams. Need we remind you of the result – a 3-0 loss for us. Experience is the great teacher and I have no doubts that the lessons of that game have not been lost on the team. Vic has pointed out that Footscray is an extremely good unit with some outstanding new players in its ranks. He believes that our problem against Footscray was technical. Too often our defence was caught up in a straight line, looking for an offside verdict – which came but infrequently. Well, the season is much older and all teams much more confident in their approaches. We look to both sides for the type of duel that Cup ties are made of.

Footscray now lies third last on the Philips Soccer League table, with three wins, one draw and six losses. It has scored 10 goals and conceded 22. That is not an impressive record when compared with Canberra City's 12 points from four wins, four draws and two losses – both losses regrettably recorded at home. Well, today is the day when our team can show the Bruce faithfuls that it can win at home and win well. Go City, Go!

In its Philip Cup matches, Footscray first defeated George Cross 2-1 and last Wednesday knocked Heidelberg United out of the competition with a 2-0 win. A typical Bruce welcome is extended to the Footscray players, coach Milenko Rusmir, and genial President Tony Kovac, who is never backward in singing to his counterparts in the League the praises of Canberra City and its promotion of the game.

Finally a special welcome to the man who has come more than 12,000 miles to be, we are sure, the adornment to the game here that he has been in his homeland. Ian Callaghan, your reputation precedes you and tends to engulf you. We know of your abilities and your outstanding professionalism in your service to your country, your last club, Swansea City, and to the mighty Liverpool. We trust you and your family will find in this home away from home some small measure of the enjoyment and reward that are your entitlement in the soccer world.
